International Museum day

2017.05.15

The Museum of the electric car's doors open to the whole community, on 18 may, International Museum day. Come visit us, admittance is free.

This day is celebrated annually by all the institutions of Museum nature. The Advisory Committee of the ICOM-International Council of Museums (ICOM) has chosen the theme "Museum as a witness of the history of man and as a creator of affective links with the past".

This theme highlights the discursive power of museums as witnesses of the history of man and as creators of affective links with the past.

The Tram Museum invites you on this day 18, the Museum's collection but also the building throughout your dimension, opening spaces for the community.

The experience of those spaces will be told in first person, by former employees of the STCP, which will be your testimony of a real experience.
