

How to validate

Andante card users should always validate the journey and also whenever they change the route. Season tickets must be validated on boarding!

Validation is compulsory. Non-validation results in a fine.

In order to properly validate when taking a city train, board the train in the boarding area next to the front door less than 10 seconds before the train doors close.

If a green light is shown, it means you have successfully validated your card. A message is also displayed on the card reader screen.

When a red light turns on validation is not complete. Read a message indicating the reason for that.

Repeat this procedure or use another ticket. The card will be blocked.

Inspection teams are well aware of fare evasion!
